

Facing Our Fears

What are you afraid of when it comes to treating transgender, non-binary, and gender non-conforming youth?

What fears have you heard come up in your clinical communities?

What are your earliest memories of gender congruence or incongruence?

Something to think about: How do you know what your gender is? What types of 'gender policing' (others weighing in on how you should experience or express your gender) have you experienced?